

CONFERENCE WAS WELL ATTENDED

The Ogden tabernacle was crowded to the doors at both sessions of the quarterly conference of the Ogden Stake held yesterday. The first session was held at 10 o'clock in the morning. Apostles George F. Richards and John Henry Smith, President Thomas B. Evans and Seymour B. Young were the speakers at the morning session. Their addresses dealt largely with the duties of the various forms of priesthood in the Mormon church.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock another big crowd attended the session and listened to addresses by Prof. W. M. McKendrick of the Weber Academy, Apostle John Henry Smith, Seymour B. Young and J. Clark. The afternoon was devoted largely to a discussion of temperance and home training.

The choir under the direction of Prof. Joseph Ballantyne rendered a special programme at both sessions.

The joint conference of the Young Ladies and Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association of the Ogden Stake met at the tabernacle last night in quarterly session. Owing to serious illness, Apostle Heber J. Grant who had been expected to speak could not be present. Prof. Bryan S. Hinkley of the Board of Aldes to the general superintendency of the two associations was substituted and delivered a highly instructive address on the far reaching magnitude of the work being carried on by the associations. Prof. Hinkley spoke at length on character building depicting the many sides of human character. He spoke with much favor of a movement to adopt a system physical culture looking to the establishment of a better quality of gymnasiums. Prof. Hinkley had a large audience composed of men, women and children who listened attentively for an hour and a half to the speaker's words.

The Pleasant View choir under the direction of Joseph Marshall rendered an excellent program. Mrs. A. R. C. Smith and Walter Stephens each sang solos.

The work of the two improvement associations in the Ogden stake is under the superintendency of Thomas F. Farr and Miss Helen Maycock, each assisted by a board of aldes which are thoroughly organizing the associations for more effective work.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS MRS. UNRUH

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, state president of the Oregon W. C. T. U. at the Baptist church last night where she delivered a highly interesting address on the issues of the day.

Mrs. Unruh has just returned from the national convention of the W. C. T. U. which was held at Omaha, and which was attended by delegates from all parts of the United States.

Her address last night was logical and forceful and dealt with issues which are found in every city.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock Mrs. Unruh will speak at the home of Mrs. J. S. Gordon, 551 Twenty-fifth street on the subject: "The White Slave Traffic and Segregation." All ladies interested in that subject are invited.

Mrs. Unruh is a speaker of experience and well acquainted with her subject.

Mrs. Unruh when asked if she did not think that a well defined red light district regulated by the city was the best way to handle this evil said most emphatically, "No." Experience has proven that the evil can be successfully prohibited where the citizens are earnest and that a regulated red light district and so called regulation simply encourages the evil. Portland closed its red light district and it was a great success so far as reducing the evil was concerned, but when a new administration came in, it was announced that the district would be reopened and the denizens who had formerly occupied the district came in on the trains in great numbers, and the opening was attended by the most shameful scenes. The evil is not necessary and should be abolished in Christian America. And it will be too."

a swing and dash to this weeks entertainment that is delightful. The variety is good. There is much clever dancing and the singing is all that a music lover could wish for. The evening's entertainment was opened by Paul Nevins and Ruby Erwood in a sketch which gave opportunity for some clever dancing and character work. They were repeatedly encouraged by a beautiful voice singing both in soprano and baritone. He gave a number of selections which greatly pleased his listeners. Dick Gardner and Anna Revere in "Real Variety" pleased the audience with their singing and dancing. Gardner is very clever with a baton and his guitar playing is a treat. The singing and dancing messenger boys, Leevers, Lee, Manny and Roberts pleased the audience enormously. The boys are excellent singers and dancers and their act contains many things that are really new. Patsy Doyle, "the droll humorist" kept the audience chuckling with his jokes and songs. He was well received. Maxine models in a list of living pictures pleased the audience greatly. The pictures are wonderful and especially appeal to lovers of art. The orchestra playing as usual lent much to the evening's entertainment. The pictures were fair.

Tonight "A Gentleman from Mississippi" will be the attraction and on Thursday and Friday nights "The Man of the Hour" will be presented. On these nights the Orpheum road show will play in Logan.

ANNAPOLIS GAME HAS NOT BEEN CANCELLED

Annapolis, Oct. 31.—Late tonight nothing had been heard of the naval academy from Col. H. L. Scott, superintendent of West Point relative to a desire to cancel the scheduled game between the military academy and the naval academy. It is said the wishes of West Point undoubtedly would be acceded to.

CHOIR MANAGER GOES TO CHICAGO

C. J. Ross, manager of the tabernacle choir left for Chicago yesterday morning to confer with the managers of the Chicago Tribune regarding the plans for sending the choir to Chicago to take part in the musical program incident to the National Land and Irrigation exposition which will be held there about the middle of this month.

It now looks as if there was no uncertainly in regard to the proposed trip of the local choir. The Chicago Tribune which is interesting itself in behalf of the exposition has consented to bear all of the expenses of the 20 members of the choir which will join the "Irrigation Glee" at the exposition.

Mr. Fred Steele and his sister, Mrs. F. C. Whiteley with her daughter left Ogden Thursday en route to Wyoming, where they expect to make their residence.
